JACKS LIFT FIFTEEN TONS

Bell Telephone Co. Eliminate All Digging Operations When Removing Poles—Two Men Do Work of Six.

Hurray! Hurray! All that network of wires is at last down and all the poles on the south side of Main street belonging to the Bell Telephone Co. are out of the ground. And well grounded rumor has it that the old G. N. W. new Canadian National wires and poles will be moved to the railroad right-of-way. The work of removing the poles by the Bell gang was a rather interesting process. There are eight men in the gang and they take the poles out by sheer lift. They have two simple jacks about thirty inches high each capable of a pull of fifteen tons with two men at each lever. A chain for each jack is placed around the base of the pole and the loose end placed in a "grab" at the top of the jack and the levers started. As the pole is raised the other men steady and steer it in the right direction, and it is let down with shears. The crew of eight can take out a forty or fifty foot pole in less than ten minutes and move on to the next in less than thirty minutes. The principle is not new by any means but the method and implements were only perfected about three years ago.

By this modern method of removing poles no digging is necessary and much valuable time is saved. Once the pole is out of the ground the hole is quickly filled in with dirt and stone and the job is complete.

THINGS SEEN

BY OUR OWN REPORTER

They came down the street "en masse" dragging behind them an old buggy, which if it could speak, would be able to tell some interesting stories of outings spent under similar auspices. Dressed in the wildest of clothes, tattered and torn, patched and repatched, with hands and faces black as stones, all talking at the same time. This pumpkin-fest outfit passed by and was soon swallowed up by the heavy damp fog which incidentally formed a cloak of cover over all their movements.

Slowly I walked down the street, stopping occasionally in front of the different houses to watch some harmless undertaking—which in itself was a huge joke to the youngsters—at the flash of each performance they would proudly walk up to the house and collect their fees; and so in little gangs they made their rounds from house to house and place to place. With pockets full of apples, cakes and candy, laughing and happy, they celebrated the 1921 Halloween. "For the frost was on the pumpkin, and the corn was in the shock."

ED SALES

CO-CO HANDLING ITABLE

Idea of Storing Grapes Into Cold Storage Very Successful—700 Carloads Shipped—50 Carloads Go to Wineries—410 Carloads Was Last Year's Record.

Virtually doubling the volume of his sales this year as compared with 1920, the present season of the Niagara District Grape Growers' Association which ended last Thursday, is considered to have been the most gratifying in the organization's history, and offers further substantial proof that co-operative selling and the pooling of interests is a profitable venture for agriculturists.

R. J. Montgomery, Manager of the association stated last week that last year 410 carloads were shipped. This year 700 carloads were shipped by baskets and 50 additional carloads were sold to the wine manufacturers. This large increase was achieved, too, despite the fact that this season the grape crop gave a yield 60 per cent. less than last year's crop. The increase is accounted for by the large number of additional growers who had the association handle their grapes this year.

A unique venture in connection with the marketing of a substantial portion of this year's crop was made by Mr. Montgomery, who, notwithstanding that the season this year was four or five weeks in advance of what it usually is, succeeded in extending the market by resorting to expedient of cold storage.

Oddly enough, grapes, it is said, never before were placed in cold storage in America until this was done by Mr. Montgomery this season. About the middle of September, he said, the association had 50 carloads of choice Concord, Niagara and Red Roger grapes, or 45,000 11 quart baskets in all, for which no profitable market could be found. There was a glut of grapes at that time, and the market was no week. So Mr. Montgomery had these grapes placed in the cold storage warehouse of the Fowler's Canadian Company, where they were held until the market improved.

Not a little anxiety was felt as to whether the grapes would keep, as no positive advice was available, simply because grapes had never before been thus stored. The losses, however, were virtually nil. By the placing of these grapes in brine tank refrigerator cars, with the same temperature as the cold storage plant, they were shipped to markets in Philadelphia, New York, Chicago and other points, where they arrived in good condition, found a ready market at an attractive price and gave complete satisfaction.

HIGH SCHOOL MASQUERADE

The pupils of GRIMSBY high school entertained their friends on Friday evening when they held a masquerade in the Assembly Hall of the school.

The Hall was very artistically decorated and much credit is due to Phillips and Phelps for their original ideas in arranging the work.

Although most of the evening was spent in dancing, the Glee Club rendered some popular and "old time" songs.

The costumes were many and varied; Spanish señoritas, Gypsy princesses, wild west cowboys, quaint old ladies with hoop skirts like those that grandma wore, all danced together enjoying the fun of the party. The judges awarded Miss Vera Williams the prize for the best and most original costume.

The music was supplied by a member of Norton's augmented orchestra.

WANT TO PIPE GAS

TO SUPPLY GRIMSBY

Chippawa Gas Co. Lay Their Proposition Before Chamber of Commerce Directors—Would Cost Consumers $1.25 a 1,000.

At a meeting of the directors of The Grimsby Chamber of Commerce on Wednesday night Messrs. Bates and Miller of the Chippawa Gas Company laid a proposition before the directors for piping natural gas to GRIMSBY.

This company is already supplying gas to Smithville and is now preparing to lay its pipes to bring gas to Desmarville. That village having passed a bylaw last week granting the company a franchise. The price of gas in Desmarville to the consumer is $1.25 a thousand feet with a minimum charge of seventy-five cents and a meter rental of 15 cents, making the total minimum charge per month ninety cents.

The idea of the company is to secure a franchise in GRIMSBY if possible and if it does so, it will bring the pipe line into GRIMSBY first and then carry it along to Desmarville. If the gas is brought to GRIMSBY a much larger pipe from the gas fields is required than would be necessary if GRIMSBY is not supplied.

The directors went into the matter pretty thoroughly and advised the gentlemen to take the matter up with the town council at their next meeting.

A NEW SPRAYER

N. A. Wright or Pontiac, Mich., president and general manager of the company and O. E. H. Crooks of Beamsville, Niagara district representative were giving demonstrations of spraying with the Universal sprayer on Friday last. This sprayer is primarily intended for grapes, currants, gooseberries, potatoes, etc., and seems well adapted to the purpose. The spray pipes are extended over the side and straddle the row, the pipes extending down to within a short distance of the ground. On each of the down pipes there are three nozzles which can individually be turned to any angle, so that the spray can be directed to any part of the plant which can of course be seen also. It usually of about 125 gallons and from it the spray mixture passes through a coil in the water hopper of the engine for cooling purposes thus eliminating any bother with water supply for that purpose. The engine is built by the Universal Company but is modeled to conform with the Ford motor engine and all parts are interchangeable with Ford supplies. The pump is a double cylinder with a capacity of five and one half gallons per minute with 250 pounds pressure which is easily obtainable with the engine. They also build a special horse drawn truck for the apparatus which is designed to turn around almost in its tracks thus being able to turn directly down the next row. With a 125 gallon tank the outfit weighs about 850 pounds. Mr. Crooks is going to the factory at Pontiac for a course as erector and will then open a service station with supplies and repairs at Beamsville.

LADY LAURIER DEAD

Lady Laurier, widow of the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier, died at her home in Ottawa at 11:45 a.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 1, 1921. Lady Laurier was in her eightieth year, and caught a chill while out walking recently. Sir Wilfrid Laurier died February 17, 1919. No family survive.

The late Lady Laurier, who, before her marriage was Miss Zoe Lafontaine, of Montreal, had resided in Ottawa almost continuously for over a quarter of a century, and no one was better known in the capital but there is probably less written concerning her than of most women who have occupied such a position as she attained.

The late Sir Wilfrid paid many a glowing tribute to his wife and lifelong helpmate. Theirs was truly an ideal marriage, save for the fact, which they never had any children. On the occasion of Sir Wilfrid's 70th birthday Liberal members and senators gave him a private dinner and in his speech on this occasion he told of the part that lady Laurier had played in his life.

Lady Laurier abstained wholly from any interference with the administrative duties of her husband, but she was a companion in the truest sense of the word. Many worthy organizations claimed her sympathy and practical interests. For a number of years she was president of St. Joseph's orphanage.

For many years she had been the honorary president of Alumnae associations of both the Rideau street and the Gloucester street convents. She was patroness of the Ottawa Woman's Canadian Historical society; honorary president of the local council of women; at one time an honorary president of the Women's Canadian Club; a patroness of the Catholic Women's league; a patroness of the Federation Des Femmes Canadiennes Françaises. She was ever a patroness to the various undertakings of the Friends of the Poor Society, which organization gave so liberally to help the needy sick of Ottawa.

HOTEL HISTORY

QUEENS ROYAL, NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE CHANGES

Built Over Half Century Ago—Visited By Present King on Two Occasions—Has Been Scene of Many Brilliant Functions—New Owner Will Modernize.

Toronto, Oct. 31.—One of Canada's oldest hotels, that dates back to the year 1845, the Queens Royal, at Niagara-on-the-Lake, has been sold to W. C. Coffitt, a Toronto financial man. It is planned by the new owner that the historic hotel will be converted into a modern summer hotel.

The hotel was originally built by Captain Thomas Dick, a lake captain running between Toronto and Port Huron in pre-confederation days, out of funds given to him by business men of that town. The money had been subscribed to build county buildings at Niagara-on-the-Lake, but when the government established the county town of St. Catharines, it was decided to build a hotel with the money that had been raised.

For 51 years, from 1863 to 1920, the hotel was operated by Messrs. McGaw and Winnett, who operate the Queens Hotel in Toronto.

The Queens Royal hotel has been the scene of many important social and military functions during its more than half a century of existence and was twice visited by the present King, first in 1884 when he was Prince George and again in 1901, when he was the Duke of Cornwall.

The new owner intends installing modern equipment in the hotel, remodelling the famous golf links and carrying out other similar improvements.

HYDRO POWER LINE

TOWERS BEING BUILT

Line Runs Parallel to G. T. R., on North Side of Tracks—Options Taken On Several Properties in Town.

Huge, gaunt, grey towers of steel are being reared skyward very rapidly by the Hydro Power Commission on the new power line being erected north of the Grand Trunk between Hamilton and Niagara Falls. This new line will supply power to all the municipalities through which it runs. The towers between Stoney Creek and Winona are nearly all up and the men are working at different spots along the line between GRIMSBY and Winona.

The land upon which the towers stand and over which the wires run is secured by the owners under lease. In GRIMSBY town several options have been taken on property. D. E. Swartz will sell lots to the Commission and will have to move two houses onto other lots. The property purchased by the GRIMSBY Steel Furniture Co. on the east side of Ontario street adjoining the G. T. R. property will also be taken over for power line use.

The wires on this line do not run over the tops of any buildings and any buildings new on the land that it will cross over will have to be moved.

HYDRO AGREEMENT DOES NOT SUIT

A meeting of those interested was held on Thursday evening to consider the contracts offered by the Hydro Electric power line buyers. About fifteen owners along the right-of-way in North GRIMSBY have signed but the balance of them feel that the contract could be much improved upon as far as they are concerned and they also consider the price offered as too low. It appears that the Commission offers $50 per ground and air rights for a period of thirty years with several restrictions on the owner of the land. A committee was appointed to go to Toronto and interview the Commission with the aim of endeavoring to get a better arrangement. The Committee consists of Messrs. McNeill, W. E. Bay, W. W. Goring, J. E. Vinton, James Mortimer and Gilbert Harvey. Reeve Mitchell is now negotiating with the Commission to arrange a date when the committee can meet the Commission in Toronto.

GORING-STEWART

Spurcombe, the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. M. Stewart, North Grimsby, was the scene of a very interesting wedding on Thursday, Oct. 27, when Viola Mary was united in marriage to Charleton, son of the late Mr. Fred and Mrs. Goring, of St. Catharines. Rev. Mr. Dills officiated. The house was gay with autumn leaves, dahlias and roses. The bride, who was given away by her father, was very becomingly gowned in white satin and radium lace. She wore a tulle veil caught with orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses. The wedding music was played by Miss Eva Alkin, of Dresden, and Mrs. Fred Beattie, of St. Catharines, sang, "Because" during the signing of the register.

After the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served, and later Mr. and Mrs. Goring left by motor for Washington and other points, the bride traveling in a brown broadcloth suit and a blue duvetyne hat with touches of henna. On their return they will reside at Deer Park farm, near St. Catharines.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

A very successful Halloween masquerade and party took place in the lecture room of the Methodist Church, on Monday evening, and was much enjoyed by the Choir and Epworth League members. There were about fifty in unique costumes. The damp evening did not affect Uncle Sam's rheumatic joints so much but what he was able to enjoy himself and assist the others in their pleasures. The paper bag girl was especially unique, and the costumes ranged from that through the pumpkin headed ghost, Indians, Spaniards, gypsies, clowns, pages, etc., to the dainty Dolly Varden. The programme, for which Miss Elsie Drury is deserving of much praise, started with a grand march, and what with fate stunts, fortune telling and so on, was carried through in true Halloween style in every feature. A real Halloween lunch (pumpkin pie, apples and all the trimmings) was served and thoroughly appreciated.

ARENA CONTRACT LET

A meeting of the directors of the Grimsby Arena Ltd. was held Tuesday evening. Tenders on the structure were opened and the steel work was awarded to the Hamilton Bridge Works. This firm's tender was the lowest and they have guaranteed erection of the trusses on or before Dec. 1st. An engineer will be on the ground to-morrow laying out for the concrete work, which will be proceeded with at once. Tenders for the finishing of the building, carpenter work, etc., were not acceptable to the directors—the price offered being considered excessive. In the meanwhile, the contractors have been asked to revise their figures, and unless reasonable, the work will be done under the supervision of the directors, employing local labor.

GOSH, HOLDUPS

DISCOVERED IN JUNGLES ON THE HIGHWAY

Were Motorists Going to Be Shot in Head or Arm?—Police Reserves Called Out But They Only Found Road Running Up the Hill.

(By Mills)

Assisted by the author of "5500 Reward for Hooker's chickens." A fantastic story of desperadoes. Is two parts.

(Part I)

"Diogenes lived in a tub, a tub," "Say, Denny, I never told you, did I? Now, this is just between you and I you know. He made believe he never found one. But he told me during the Old Boys Reunion that he did. Yes, sir! And say, Denny, you wouldn't believe it, but—Now, just between you and I, don't say anything; but he told me himself that he had found an honest man. And where do you think he found him? In a real estate office, Denny; in a real estate office."

This is the preamble to a lurid tale of a hold up that comes from the wilds of the highway near the Cline mountain crossing. Denny was driving the car and the other occupant broke from meditation to exuberance and started to hum the old nursery rhyme about the ancient Greek and his earthenware sleeping apartments. It's Denny's turn to move. He has reached his destination and is slowing up the car preparatory to getting out and turning the wheel over to the car owner. From behind comes a big touring car with bright lights. The headlights disclose two gigantic forms emerging from the ditch "with their hands up in an attitude of 'stand and deliver.'" Denny, with great presence of mind for one so young, switched his foot from the brake to the accelerator and the car shot forward, drowning the staccato yells of the chief to "Drive on! Drive on! It's a holdup!" Denny's attention to doing anything unnecessary prompted him to swerve the car around Robin Hood and Dick Yurpin. It would be a beastly mess to clean touring car. They were the same, the terrible danger. R-r-r-r-r-r-r-rattle, rattle, rattle. Buzz! went the Ford. And the Chief and Denny reached GRIMSBY with fire in their eyes. Headquarters was notified and the flying squad was soon on the way, accompanied by the redoubtable Denny, to the lair of the murderous gang. (By this time the would be victims had counted seven in the gang). When they arrived the Cline Mountain road still meandered up the hill; the Prince of Pileen's carriage chaise still stood intact. But of desperadoes no sign.

(Part II)

Three birds from this neighborhood drove to Hamilton on Wednesday last and took in Alec Pantage's exposition of how to please the poor. After the show they tackled a bowl of yakamen and then dug up a couple of crocks and started for home. At Winona they took the lower road as being less frequented and offering a better opportunity of sampling the pulque. As the navigable portion of the lower road ends at the cross road leading to the Cline mountain they turned up toward the highway. Just before reaching the highway they pulled up again, turned off the lights and proceeded to take another shot in the arm, as a sort of finale before getting into the bright coming down the highway disclosed a car ahead which the three on the sideroad recognized and wishing to dispense some of the confined joy two of them jumped out and started to intercept the car they had recognized and offer comradeship. But the driver of said car, one Denny, did not recognize them, and with heroic disregard of strain on the steering gear, rushed the car around them and away.

Denny and the Chief may have gotten a shock, but the other three saved a couple of "shots"—of hooch.

Most of the people in this district make good efforts to keep their place looking nice, but the township authorities can spoil a good deal of the effect. The big willow tree behind the park chalet and the smaller pine tree near it are a dirty disgrace. The pine has been dead for more years than one, and the willow is more than half dead. The road commissioner's gang could get rid of these two eyesores in two or three hours and most anyone around there would haul the refuse away for the road. It would not be necessary to cut more than the dead limbs from the willow and it would be a wonderful improvement.

The crown of the hill on the highway in front of H. K. Griffiths is being cut down to a more normal level. It should never have been built up.

Most people in most towns would have to travel miles to a great city to hear such music. Miss Jones' friends heard it in their "own home town." Sometimes one feels very glad that he lives in Grimsby.

Obituary

JACOB BROOKS

The death occurred in North GRIMSBY at his home "Hillside" on Main street east on Thursday, Oct.
27, 1921, of Jacob Brooks in his 53rd year. The late Mr. Brooks was born in the county of Iron, April 30, 1868,
and came to GRIMSBY eighteen years ago and became well known as a carpenter and building contractor, which business he followed for a number of years, and built many of the fine homes around GRIMSBY. Here he married Elizabeth McQuillan (nee O'Neil) and had resided here ever since. He had been in poor health for several years and his death was not unexpected.

Mr. Brooks was a Conservative in politics, an adherent of the Baptist Church, a kind and loving father and good friend as the many floral tributes testified. Surviving are Mrs.
Brooks and one daughter Pearl at home; two brothers and one sister, Arthur of Centrair, Ont., Thomas of Hammond, Indiana, and Mrs. L. J.
Bell of Vancouver, B. C. The funeral took place on Saturday, Oct. 29, to Queens Law cemetery, the Rev. T.
Ratcliffe conducting the services.
Assisted by the Rev. James T. Priest of Whitby, a former pastor here, and Mrs. F. M. Howar of Hamilton sang the deceased's favorite hymn "Heaven is My Home." The pall-bearers were H. H. Marsh, Fred Marsh, J. H. Gibson, P. E. Tregunno, R. J.
Seetinger and A. F. Hawks.

Mr. Brooks' two brothers were present, Thomas O. Hammond having been present here on the past two weeks.

MRS. W. A. BROWNLEE

The community was greatly startled last Thursday when the word was passed around that Mrs. Dr. Brownlee had fallen down stairs in the early morning, and as a result of the shock
had quietly passed away about 10.30
a.m.

Mrs. Brownlee came to Grimsby with her husband and family some thirteen years ago. She was an active member of the Baptist Church, the W. U.
T. U., Women's institute, and Red Cross. She was always ready to help in any good work. For the past three years she had been a poor health and therefore unable to participate in any of the work in which she was so greatly interested.

Mrs. Brownlee was a most patient sufferer, never uttering any words of complaint, always thinking of others, and recently displayed
the gifts and graces of a devout Christian. She will be sadly missed by her husband, Dr. W. A. Brownlee, and her family, Dr. Basil E. of Winnipeg, Man.; Dr. Harold G. associated with his father in the dentistry; Miss Vera, who is teaching school in Toronto; Homer M., B.A., M.M. of Cleveland, Ohio, and Miss Brownlee, a sister in the home, all of whom, together with many relatives of the family, and a host of other friends and neighbors were present at her funeral, Sunday afternoon, which was conducted by her pastor, Rev. Theo.
Ratcliffe. Among those from a distance were a brother, Dr. M. Brownlee, of Woodstock, Ont.; a sister from Mount Forest; Dr. Frank McGuire and wife, from Buffalo, N. Y.; Dr. Webster, Dean of the College of Dentistry, Toronto; Dr. Wilcott, Sec. Treas. of the College of Dentistry and Dr. Adams,
a prominent dentist of Toronto.

MRS. A. A. SMITH

Mrs. Abbey Adelaide Smith, 53
years old, and the wife of Levi Smith,
near Winslow, Grimsby township, died on Monday morning, Oct. 31, at St. Joseph's hospital, Hamilton, after an illness of two weeks' duration. Deceased was born in Bismark, but for many years had resided in Winslow.
The remains were conveyed from the chapel of A. H. Davenport & Co., via T. H. & B. to Winslow, where, following the funeral service, interment took place.

MRS. ALEXANDER TAYLOR

Isabella Finlay Ley Taylor, widow of the late Alexander Taylor formerly of Guelph, died at the home of her son Charles Taylor, Lake road, North GRIMSBY on Sunday, October 30, 1921. The late Mrs. Taylor was born in Scarborough and was married there moving to Guelph about sixty years ago. Ten years ago she came to GRIMSBY with her son, her husband having predeceased her nearly fifty years. A private service was held by the Rev. L. H. Currie of St. John's Presbyterian church of which congregation Mrs. Taylor was a member, at the home at 12.13 on Tuesday, Nov. 1
and the funeral took place to the G.
T. R. Interment took place at Guelph on Wednesday morning. To mourn are left two sons and three daughters, James Beamsville, Charles of GRIMSBY, Miss Kate Taylor of GRIMSBY and Isabella and Daisy of Ottawa. The pall bearers
at GRIMSBY were W. M. Stewart, C.
W. B. Manson, A. Dow, J. H. Gibson, E. U. Patterson, T. Harvey Cook.

RUNNING THE WASH MACHINE

Wash day is a dread day not only to the average farm wife but her husband as well. It means work, possibly hurried meals and irritability.

Preparing for the ordeal the day before washing tends to make the lighter. Cut the soap, prepare the starch and put the clothes to soak
the evening. Place the first washing in the machine and then the second on top; sprinkle a good washing powder over and add the water. In the morning draw off the water into a tub and take out the second washing and let soak until ready to wash. Never soak colored clothes over night.

Be sure the water is not too hot—
as it has a tendency to cook the dirt into the articles and will be too warm for the colored clothes later on.
Have it at a temperature that you can put your hand in and be sure to have enough to well cover the clothes
—as this is one of the secrets of clean washing.

Run the machine about ten minutes

for fine white clothes and seventeen
for towels and colored garments.
One cannot expect to wash clothes
in three minutes and have them clean.

Place clothes in cool water and let come to a boil, having added a blue washing tablet or bottle bluing, and let boil about fifteen minutes. Rinse in sufficient bluing water. Use a long pan for starch and place below
the wringer; run the clothes through this after dipping in the starch; it distributes the starch evenly and is a great time saver.

Hang small garments on the line
by the shoulders and save the time spent later on pulling them into shape, as when hung by the hem.
Hang voile waists, dresses, etc., white stockings, as well, where the breeze strikes them, as they have a tendency to dry streaked; especially in cases where one has not soft water to use.

Take colored clothes off the line
directly they are dry, as the sun fades them. Leave white clothes out to bleach if the day is sunny; over night as well is better, if there is no wind. Do not pin the handkerchiefs in together with the larger pieces, as they are awkward to handle and are much more apt to get lost. Pin three or four together by the corners on the line where the breeze can reach them. Do not place them in a sack, as this is not satisfactory and they will not dry properly.

Fold the sheets, towels, etc., when taking from the line and so avoid needless wrinkles. Do not iron underwear, sheets, coarse towels, etc., not only on account of the saving of labor but because the heat destroys the oxygen in them, so essential to health. Sprinkle the clothes the evening before the ironing day, as then the dampening is evenly distributed.

When ironing lace or embroidery trimmings, be sure to press on the wrong side, as this greatly improves

the appearance of them. It is appalling the number of women who seem unaware of this fact.

To iron pillow-cases quickly fold
them once the long way, press, fold once more and then fold up from the bottom; turn over and iron the last portion. Clothes should be sorted after ironing and those to be mended placed by themselves.

Evening wraps this season are distinguished by great gorgeousness.
They are fashioned from sumptuous materials and their colorings are amazingly beautiful. The model pictured is originated in a deep red velvet which falls most gracefully about the figure. Its trimming consists of a band of red satin which is veiled by white chiffon. This is placed upon the front and back in pleasing panel form. The collar emulates the fashionable Tuxedo. However, it is designed so that if desired it may be rolled tightly about the neck. The arm-slits are placed where the velvet
meets the trimming.

Thanksgiving Day, Monday, Nov. 7th

Thanksgiving

Through days of grievous heartache.
In nights of bitter pain.
So many hopes have faded
So many plans proved vain,
But still the silver lining
Fringes the clouds overhead.
And newer hopes come thronging
Swift after those that fled.

Always another dawning
Follows the longest night.
Turn then from cheerless brooding
Look for the gleaming light;
Lift up the weak and weary
Who falter by the way,
So shall you find new blessings
On this Thanksgiving Day.

WHEN THE FROST IS ON THE PUNKIN

By JAMES WHITCOMBE HULEY

When the frost is on the punkin and the fodder's in the shock,
And you hear the kyouck and gobble of the struttin' turkey-cock,
And the clackin' of the guineys, and the cluckin' of the hens,
And the rooster's ballyhooyer as he tiptoes on the fence;
O, it's then's the times a feller is a-feelin' at his best,
With the risin' sun to greet him from a night of peaceful rest,
As he leaves the house, bareheaded, and goes out to feed the stock,
When the frost is on the punkin and the fodder's in the shock.

They're something kindo' harty-like about the atmosphere
When the heat of summer's over and the coolin' fall is here—
Of course we miss the flowers, and the blossoms on the trees,
And the mumble of the hummin' birds and buzzin' of the bees;
But the air's so appetizin' and the landscape through the haze
Of a crisp and sunny morning of the airly autumn days
Is a pictur' that no painter has the colorin' to mock—
When the frost is on the punkin and the fodder's in the shock.

The husky, rusty rassel of the tassels of the corn,
And the rasplin' of the tangled leaves, as golden as the morn;
The stubble in the furries—kindo' lonesome-like, but still
A-preschin' sermons to us of the barns they grewed to fill;
The strawtack in the medder, and the reaper in the shed;
The hosses in theyr stalls below—the clover overhead!
O, it sets my hart a-clickin' like the tickin' of a clock,
When the frost is on the punkin and the fodder's in the shock.

Then yur apples all is gathered, and the ones a feller keeps
Is popped around the cellar-floor in red and yellor heaps;
And your cider-makin's over, and your wimmern-folks is through
With their mince and apple-butter, and theyr souse and sausage, too!
I don't know how to tell it—but ef sich a thing could be
As the angels wantin' boardin', and they'd call around on ME—
I'd want to 'commode' 'em—all the whole-indurin' flock—
When the frost is on the punkin, and the fodder's in the shock.

SOME USES FOR VINEGAR

A teaspoonful of vinegar added to lard used for frying prevents the articles to be fried from absorbing too much fat.

A tablespoonful of vinegar added to the last rinsing water in which silk crepe de chine, and ribbons are washed freshens the colors and makes them look new.

In hot weather wash meat in vinegar and water to freshen it before cooking. If tough meat is soaked in a little vinegar the fibres will soften.

One or two tablespoonfuls of vinegar added to bath water in hot weather renders the bath more refreshing.

Added to the rinsing water, a few drops of vinegar will prevent the hair from appearing sticky after shampooing.

TO THE BUSINESS MAN

The function of an eye is to see—of an ear to hear—of the tongue to speak.

The function of an Advertisement is to sell goods.

The more goods it sells, the better it functions. The INDEPENDENT advertising functions perfectly.

Does your eye function? See then the difference in size between the crowd in the store that is using INDEPENDENT advertising, and the one which is not. Does your ear function? Listen then to the praises bestowed upon THE INDEPENDENT advertising by people who know.

Your prosperity depends upon your sales, and these in turn depend upon your advertising. The maximum amounts of sales depends essentially upon the use of advertising!

So, if you will pardon a last, and a very personal question, does your brain function?

If it does, see to it that you use more advertising space in the INDEPENDENT!
